DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 1-22 are objected to because of the following informalities: The term "light-penetrate" is not grammatically correct. Appropriate correction is required. The term "light transmissive" is suggested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 9-13 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term "the ring shapes" in claims 9 and 22 lack antecedent basis. Also the term "the display plate" in claims 9 and 10 lack antecedent basis, as claim 9 recites a plurality of display plates.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3712

Claims 1-7 and 14-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Inoue (U.S. 5,395,111). Inoue discloses in Figure 2 and in the specification a symbol display device for a game machine comprising plural main display units (on outer ring 5a), each unit having a symbol and a light transmissive area (the non-symbol portion of ring 5a is transparent), a sub display unit 5b having symbols thereon which can be viewed through the light transmissive portion of ring 5a, and a winning judging section 44, described in column 4, lines 3-12 of the specification. With respect to claims 2, 3, 15 and 16, the light transmissive area of each display unit is a transparent part in the non-symbol area, which is either inside or outside the display part, depending on how "display part" is defined. With respect to claims 4, 5, 17 and 18, the claims recite functional language describing the intended function of the device. Under MPEP 2114, such language is generally accorded little if any patentable weight. The '111 patent reads on the structural limitations of the claims. With respect to claims 6 and 19, Inoue discloses that a composite symbol is formed as claimed. With respect to claims 7 and 20, ring 5b is a mechanical reel.

Claims 9-14 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Malavazos. Malavazos discloses in Figures 1-3 and in the specification a symbol display device for a game machine comprising a plurality of display plates 13 and 14, each unit having a symbol and a light transmissive area (the non-symbol portions of plates 13 and 14 are transparent), a sub display unit 15 having symbols thereon which can be viewed through the light transmissive portions of plates 13 and 14, and a winning judging section which judges whether a player wins based upon the combination of symbols. Malavazos discloses in column 2, lines 38-44 that the plates have ring shapes of different diameters, and are transparent. With respect to claim 10, the light transmissive area of each display unit is a transparent part in the non-symbol area, which is either inside or outside the display part, depending on how "display part" is defined. With respect to claims 11 and 12, the claims recite functional language describing the intended function of the device. Under MPEP 2114, such language is generally accorded little if any patentable weight. Malavazos reads on the structural limitations of the claims. With respect to claim 13, Malavazos discloses that a composite symbol comprising a plurality of images is formed. "Composite" is a broad term which is encompassed by Malavazos.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Inoue (U.S. 5,395,111) in view of Inoue (U.S. 5,752,881). Inoue ('111) discloses all of the limitations of the claims with the exception of the sub display unit being a liquid crystal display unit. However, such displays are known in the art, as disclosed for example in column 9, lines 36-43 of Inoue ('881). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the relevant art to modify the device disclosed by Inoue ('111) by providing a liquid crystal display for the purpose of allowing a larger number of symbols to be displayed by the sub display.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Inoue (US 5,722,891), Okada, Glavich and Luciano disclose various symbol display devices.
